1. The following list of drugs is representative of those shipped from the Tarchomin Pharmaceutical Plant near Warsaw to the Far East:<sup>1</sup>
  - a. Acetylo salicyl acid
  - b. Codeine phosphoric
  - c. Adrenalin cortico
  - d. Injections against tropic (sic)
  - e. Sulphanilamide drugs
  - f. Sulphathiazol penicillin
2. The packet of drugs destined for the soldier on the battlefield to be self-administered contains penicillin pills and salve and some bandages, the lot packaged in small impregnated linen parcels.<sup>2</sup> Each soldier is issued fifty (50) penicillin pills in one metal tube.
3. The drugs are packaged in two different ways at the factory: those destined for a field hospital are packed in boxes approximately 39" by 19 1/2" by 19 1/2", lined with zinc sheets which are soldered closed before the top of the box is sealed. Only one type of drug is put in each crate. The drugs themselves are individually wrapped in small cardboard containers insulated with sawdust and wrapped with impregnated linen.
